

THE YELLOW FEVER GERM DISCOVERED

IDENTIFIED BY BERTILLON METHOD AND THUMB MARKS.

Authorities Will Now Proceed to Work the "Third Degree" and Arrest the Culprit.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 25.—The yellow fever germ has been discovered. Careful tests made during a period of four weeks at the Emergency hospital, by Dr. P. E. Archard, Dr. J. Blerny Guthrie and Prof. J. C. Smith, a biologist of world-wide fame, have resulted in the discovery, identification and positive proof of the germ whose conveyance by the stegomyia mosquito, causes yellow fever in all whom it inoculates.

The discovery was made two weeks ago in the clinical laboratory of the hospital, but no announcement was made until absolute identification and proof was secured. This has now been proved to the satisfaction of the physicians. In nearly a dozen cases yellow fever was diagnosed on the appearance of the germ in the patient's blood, although there were no other signs of yellow fever. It is stated that Dr. Guthrie, who first made these diagnoses, was laughed at for insisting that certain persons had yellow fever when they displayed no symptoms. In every such case, however, the patient in question developed fever after an interval of from 1 to 3 days, and in not one single case has the fever failed.

This is beyond question one of the most radically important discoveries in the field of medicine, for fifty years, or since Pasteur made his famous experiments with cholera. Any physician, it is said, can identify the disease in the first stages before ordinary recognized symptoms have declared themselves. It furnishes an indisputable test of the scourge of the tropics and cannot be confounded with the germs of malaria or meningitis or any of the diseases which resemble yellow fever in its first stages.

The official announcement has not been made and will not be made throughout the secular press, Dr. Archard preferring to speak through the medical journals in giving the discovery to the world.

Official figures issued by the Marine Hospital service show the fever is being wiped out here. September, in past years, has always been worse than any other month for yellow fever, but exactly the opposite is shown this year. From August 1 to August 24, this year, there were reported 1,306 cases of yellow fever, with 169 deaths from the disease. The death rate for those twenty-four days, was 13 per cent. From September 1st to September 24th, there were reported 912 cases, and 90 deaths. The death rate for those twenty-four days, in September was 10 per cent. Up to, and including July 31, there had been reported, as nearly as could be estimated, 294 cases and 57 deaths, making the death rate for the period 19.38 per cent. There were 393 fever cases, and 79 fewer deaths reported in September than August and the death rate was greatly decreased.

A contract was made with W. E. Seoville to rebuild two abutments on the county line road between Wayne and Stark counties, near Samuel Eshelman's place, Lawrence township, masonry $8.50 per perch, excavating at 50 cents per yard and straightening channel at 50 cents per cubic yard.

Wabash Divisions May Be Changed.

E. W. McMaster left yesterday to take his position in the Pittsburgh terminal offices of the Wabash as general superintendent. It is likely that the divisions of the road will be changed so as to have all about the same size. At present the Cleveland-Toledo division is much larger than the others and it is the intention of the new management to do away with this difference.

HEADS THREE

BANKS BUT YET HE ISN'T TOO BUSY.

Col. J. J. Sullivan, is President of One Canton Institution and Two in Cleveland.

To be president of one bank is not hard work, to be president of two is a bit easier, while to be president of three borders on what is vulgarly called a "clinch," says the Cleveland Leader.

At least such is the opinion of J. J. Sullivan, well known as colonel and ex-president of the Cleveland chamber of commerce and president of the national body of chambers, also president of the Central National Bank, of Cleveland; the First National Bank of Canton, O., and since last Monday president of the Superior Savings & Trust Co., Cleveland.

Col. Sullivan is a busy man if one wants to see him, but the triple-presidented colonel denies that he is busy and gives proof in that he always has time to see you. But in searching for this man of finance one has to go to three separate places. They are all nice places, done in marble, bronze and mahogany and softened with rugs of the finest Asiatic weaves. These spots the president calls his offices. Having three and not working so hard as he says the public thinks he does, the offices consequently do not receive much wear and tear, save from the hurrying through that is always hunting for the colonel.

The bigger a bank president is, in point of amount of business transacted by him, the bigger and more imposing must his private desk be—in the minds of the people who seldom get inside of presidents' offices. Hence the argument brings one to the conclusion that a man, be he president of three banks, must have desks three times the size of an ordinary one-bank president.

But when the public calls on the triple-presidented colonel its ideas of the accommodations of a bank president will be severely and suddenly disturbed. It will find Col. Sullivan at a small and dainty mahogany desk, with a small handful of loose papers piled neatly in one corner, one bottle of ink and one gold pen.

"I like to have things done neatly and with dispatch," explained the colonel, yesterday. "I have been in the business so long, sixteen years, that it is necessary to take all day to pass upon a loan. Although I personally guide the destinies of three banking institutions, it is not much work—no, not much."

Watch Your Dictionary.

People purchasing dictionaries should watch and not take one of the obsolete Webster's Dictionaries. The International is the latest edition. Any intelligent reader would as soon use an "original" Johnson's or Walker's Dictionary, or an almanac of 1847, for reference, as this obsolete copy of Webster. One Webster of today is worth a score of this "back-number" publication.
